EDUCATIONAL DEPARTMENT.

Under this head such thoughts, statistics, facts of thems of news as are calculated to interest the iembs of chacation in our city and State, will be isorted weekly in the Sunday Remocrat. Brief cans of this kind are sadiction from the readers of paper, and should be indiressed to G. A. CLASE,

THE CLOSE OF THE SCHOOLS. Last week was one of the most interrasis were was one of the most interesting and eventful periods in the history of the public schools of our city. During the year just closed the schools have arrested more general public attention than during any similar former tion than during any similar former period; hence, there was a larger attend-ance of patrons and friends at the vari-ons examinations and exhibitions, and we have never heard so high a degree of satisfaction so generally expressed.

satisfaction so generally expressed.
What a change has taken place within the brief space of half a dozen years!
Then there were but eight large ward school buildings; now there are thirteen.
Then the Female High School occupied a dilapidated old building on the corner of Center and Walmut, but in the course of a year and a half was moved to its present location. Now this lutilding is musuitable for the school in its internal arrangements, and some of our energetic arrangements, and some of our energetic School Trustees are talking and planning for a new one. Then one gentleman, J. B. Gheens, Ess₁, was able to discharge all the duties of Superintendent and Sceretary; now, the duties of each office occupy the full time of two most energetic and well-qualified officers—Superintendent Tingley and Secretary McPherson. Then our daily papers barely alluded to the schools, once in a while, as a feature of our city, and it was considered as a favor to the schools and the loand to have a few lines of editorial in rrangements, and some of our energetic Board to have a few lines of editorial in their favor; now, our dailies, English and tierman, vie with each other in pre-senting to the public items of interest in reference to the great cause of popular ducation. The proprietors of the Bemocrat about five years ago kindly granted us the space of a column weekly for the insertion of educational matter. They have always encouraged us to publish anything that would increase public interest or excite public attention in the direction of the schools. We have commeted the department, we knew, 'feeldy; but as we du it gratuitensly, we have few apologies to make. Yet as weak as the instrument has been, we are certain that the mere cristence of the column on a sunday norming less done much to knew ion of educational matter. They have Sunday morning has done much to keep the schools before the people, as well as to influence friends of popular educa-tion to write and print through other papers articles interesting to the general der and valuable to the can

Now the charter convention has power to do much for the public schools by their wise action. We are glad to know that the committee on education is com that the committee on education is composed of most intelligent and public-spirited men, with S. P. Browder, Esq., the edicient Principal of the Seventh-ward School, as chairman. Mr. Browder is peculiarly well-qualified for this position, and we have no doubt that, guided by his suggestions founded on varied educational experience and extensive knowledge on all matters relating to knowledge on all matters relating to public schools, the committee will orig nate and present some features for the new charter, which, if adopted, will give a new impulse to the schools and honor the names of the committee.

tion, from the effects of which they do not recover until a month of the new school year may have expired.

But this is not all; great advantage is sometimes—gained. It often happens that many pupils are quick to barn some branches, but very slow to gain a knowledge of others. Under our graded system such must fail in their advancement. A few weeks in study under the guidness of mexperienced teacher are often ance of an experienced teacher are often sufficient to bring them up to the stand-ard of examination. of the 25th, in commenting upon the market, says:

Since the writing of our last weekly report, the market has been influenced to some extent by the firmer tone of the Liverpool cotion market, but the reaction from a bnoyant sin adepressod market, accompanied by a decline its prices, both in Liverpool and here, has exerted a depressing influence for a day or two past, and healers would gladly self on the basis of last week's prices. But buyers are few and far between, and the few who are buying are doing a hand to mouth bushiess, and act as though they expected a gigal reduction in prices, even when the probabilities of a decline seem more than usually remailed to drive beffer bargains this week than they will for some time hence, as the poblers are making preparations for an active full trade, and holding nearly everything except odd lots at full flagres. In order to clear out odd buts, however, they are frequently pheols at prices rousidecably below the regula as exket quotations, but this is the only way in which they can be worked off. The future of the observed cotton goodsmarket is dependent apon so many "ifs." that it is till to speculate upon it. the growth of cotion, the tinkering of the teniff and currency bills, &c., all lave so direct a bearing upon the goods market that the future of the carriery ontil have been settled, or until Congress adjourns.
